

IMC Web Warehouse™ Parts Category Search Reference Guide

New Look and Parts Categories Same Search

The IMC Web Warehouse™ is leading the way in adopting the AAIA industry standards for parts classification and cataloging. The adoption of these standards will make it easier for IMC customers to find parts. IMC has created a quick review of search options for looking up parts in the IMC Web Warehouse.

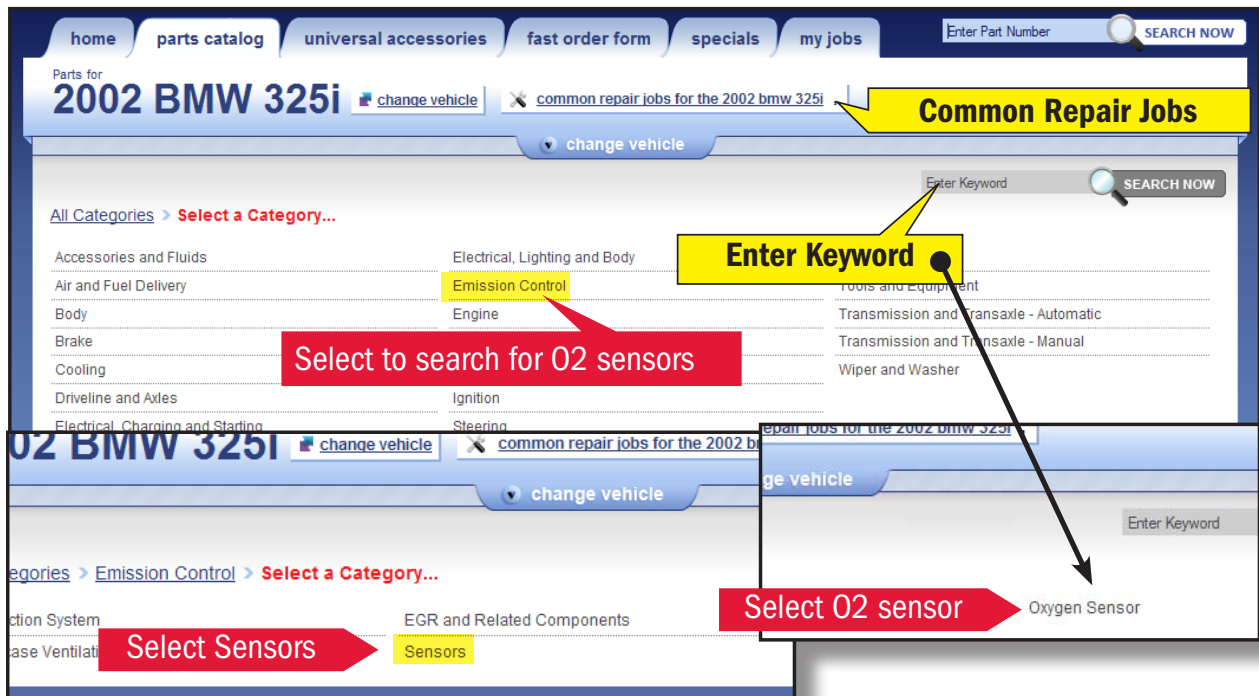

There are many ways to find parts in the IMC Web Warehouse:

- a) Year/Make/Model Search
- b) Enter the Part Number
- c) Keyword Search
- d) Search by VIN
- e) Common Jobs

After finding the Year, Make and Model of the vehicle, you can either drill down into the categories displayed or enter keywords for fast category selection.

What's New: Product Categories and Product Display.

Category Quick Reference

IMC has updated the look and features of the IMC Web Warehouse to go with the new part category standards and we have created a quick overview of some of the enhancements. The AAIA standard breaks down parts in three levels from broad to narrow. Category is the broadest and includes terms like Engine, Cooling, Suspension, etc. The sub-category is just that, a pool of terms used to describe areas within that specific system of the car. As an example let's take Emission Control.

Emission Control	← Category
Sensors	← Sub-Category
Air Temperature Sensor	← Part Types
Mass Air Flow Sensor	← Part Types
Oxygen Sensors	← Part Types

There were general categories in the previous version of the IMC Web Warehouse, like filters and belts. With the example above in mind, here are a few pointers as to where some of these key items have been re-categorized.

Filters

Filters are now broken down by the system within the vehicle that each filter resides. Oil filters are now under the Engine category air and fuel filters are now found under Air & Fuel Delivery and cabin filters are now found under the HVAC category.

Oxygen Sensors

O2 sensors are now found under the Emission Control category, sub-category Sensors, sub-category Oxygen Sensor. (Example on Page 1)

Brakes

Sub-categories have been clarified to make it easier to find what you are looking for faster.

Brake
ABS Components	Control Cables
ABS Control Module	Parking Brake Cable
ABS Wheel Speed Sensor	Disc Pads and Brake Shoes
ABS Wheel Speed Sensor Retainer Cap	Disc Brake Pad
Brake Hardware	Drum Brake Shoe
Brake Master Cylinder Grommet	Parking Brake Shoe
Brake Master Cylinder Plug	Drums and Rotors
Disc Brake Caliper	Axle Hub

Electrical

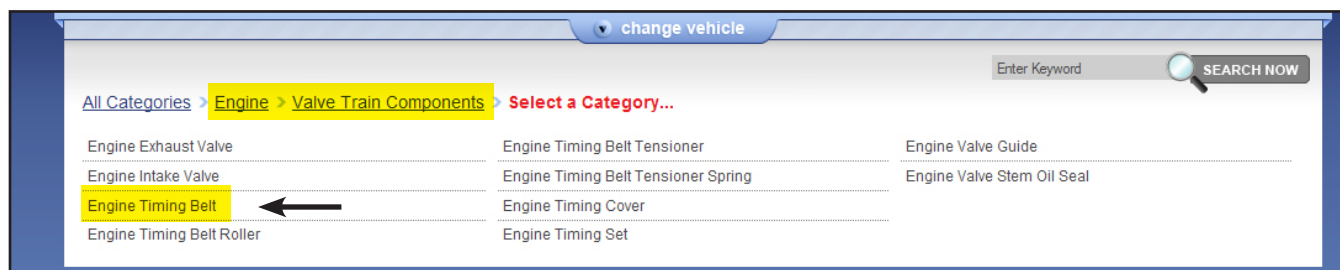

Electrical has been divided into two categories, Electrical-Charging & Starting; and Electrical-Lighting & Body

Spark Plugs

Spark plugs can be found under the Ignition category, sub-category Secondary Ignition and then select Spark Plug.

Belts

If you want an Engine Timing Belt you select the Engine category, sub-category Valve Train Components and then select Engine Timing Belt.

Another way to find belts is to use the keyword search box after you have completed a year, make and model search. If you selected a 2003 Toyota Camry and typed Belts in the keyword search box you would get the following result:

Part Listings

When you find the sub-category you are looking for, in this case oxygen sensors the parts are sorted by location and engine type to ensure you find exactly the part you want. Click on the “down” (▼) arrow to open the listing, check pricing, availability and order the part.
